Factory List - 2024

OUR SUPPLY CHAIN

Our suppliers are chosen because of their impeccable manufacturing skills and ethical credentials. Because they share our obsession with quality, values and attention to detail, and they have a proven commitment to operate their factories and treat their workers in a transparent manner.

We pride ourselves on our collaborative relationships with our suppliers and aim to build long-term partnerships. We have been working with nearly half of our stock suppliers for more than 10 years, and our top five suppliers account for over 50% of our business.

At the date of this report, we source from the following countries:

This map illustrates percentage of production and number of factories in each country of operation.

SUPPLIER RISK ASSESSMENT

Ethical Audit Programme

Before we start work with a new factory, we obtain an independent audit of the factory to seek assurance that it provides a safe working environment and operates in accordance with our Code of Conduct. All suppliers, including all new suppliers, are required to have in place a valid, in date, recognised ethical audit submitted to our ethical compliance partners. These audits are assessed, and independent third-party audit inspection reports are completed by an industry certified auditor. We will not onboard any factory where Critical issues have been identified.

All new suppliers are issued with our Supplier Manual, which includes our Modern Slavery Policy and Code of Conduct, and which forms part of our supplier contractual terms and conditions.

Risk Mapping

White Stuff completes an annual human rights risk assessment which investigates the inherent risk of our global supply chain based on our suppliers' country of operation. This risk assessment is a tool which objectively looks at various categories of key human rights risks such as: forced labour, gender discrimination, corruption and vulnerable employment.

Our sourcing practices are then influenced by our ESG risk assessments, inherent risk mapping and our ethical audit programme. Our independent auditing partner assesses and verifies this data to understand the actual risks for our supply chain. These risks are continually monitored through regular internal ethical risk reviews.

White Stuff also has a corrective action plans procedure in place which ensures suppliers have regular contact with our teams who provide clear improvement plans. These plans are in line with ETI Base Code and our independent auditing partners improvement criteria.
